Can you write rule to help people live a good life?

Are you inspired by a part of John Wesley's life?
Which part is it?

Prayer of the week

Dear God,

Thank you for giving us John Wesley as an example for our lives.
We are sorry when we have not done our 'Best, Always, Everywhere!'
Please help us to follow his method to help us to do our best in all that we do.

Amen

This week's activity

Write a rule that you could use to help you live a better life.

Think of the things you might do in your life every day.

Think of the things that might stop you from doing these things. Write these in a dark colour.

Explore further at home

Think of how you can use your rule at home (not just in school).

Could you make someone else's day brighter?

Could do something for someone else?

Could you help another person who lives with you?
