Explain that our world could not exist in the way it does today without some rules to follow, and Christians believe that the Ten Commandments are a good place to start. Looking Up – Prayer Dear God, Please help us to show respect for others and to keep the rules of our school so that it is a happy and safe place to be. Thank you for giving the Ten Commandments to Moses and thank you that they still contain good advice for us today. And to know that with God, all things are possible. Amen

		Tuesday Hall	Whole School Worship At the start of a new year, people often make a resolution...a promise to do something...drink more water, exercise more, eat healthier. Methodists have a very particular way of renewing their faith commitment known as the Covenant Service. Traditionally held at the beginning of January. Created in 1755 by John Wesley, this form of service encapsulates his understanding of Christian discipleship as a relationship with God – something like a marriage; between human beings on the one side and God on the other.	Praise Through Song – Looking Up God Suit On https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=luJ9OGjCdzk	AG
			Story Telling John Wesley believed that Methodists, and all Christians should reaffirm their covenant with God annually, so he created a service in which an individual renews his/her covenant with God. In 1755 Wesley held his first covenant service. The covenant service is observed in some local churches on New Year's Day or on the first Sunday in January.	Reflection Looking In: Have you made a new year’s resolution? Looking Out: Looking Up: Methodists look up to God during the Covenant Service and renew their faith and love in God. Looking Up – Prayer The Methodist Covenant Prayer... I am no longer my own but yours. Put me to what you will,

				rank me with whom you will;  put me to doing,  put me to suffering;  let me be employed for you,  or laid aside for you,  exalted for you,  or brought low for you;  let me be full,  let me be empty,  let me have all things,  let me have nothing:  I freely and wholeheartedly yield all things  to your pleasure and disposal.  And now, glorious and blessed God,  Father, Son and Holy Spirit,  you are mine and I am yours. So be it.  And the covenant now made on earth, let it be ratified in  heaven.  Amen

He lived in Italy in the 12 th and 13 th centuries. Does anyone know what he is famous for? ( Caring for animals and the environment. He is the patron saint of Italy and of animals. )	Praise Through Song – Looking Up Peace Peace (Official Lyric Video) - Bethel Music feat. We The Kingdom   Peace	AG

One of his wise sayings is, 'It is in giving that we receive.'
Ask the children what they think this saying might mean.

Story Telling

Explain to the children that the story that you are going to tell them is about a little boy who gave everything he had. Ask the children to listen carefully and see if they can work out what he received in return.

Jesus Feeds the 5,000

Reflection

When that little boy in the story set off from home in the morning, he had no idea that his packed lunch would be used to feed over 5,000 people. However, God had a different plan, and the packed lunch has become the subject of one of the best-known stories in the Bible! The little boy wasn't very old, and he didn't have a lot to offer. However, he was very generous with what he did have, and God blessed him and many others because of that generosity. In the Bible, we can find several stories about children. By reading these stories, we learn that God values children highly and often has important jobs for them to do.

Looking In:

What kind of things could you be generous with here in your school? We can be generous with many things other than money. We can be generous with our time, possessions and friendships, and in many other ways. Being among generous people makes everyone feel good, so let's all try to be especially generous this week.

Looking Out:

How can we help others?

Looking Up:

Looking Up – Prayer

Dear God,
Thank you that the little boy in the story was so generous with his packed lunch.
Please help us all to be generous and willing to share whatever we can with others.
We know that with God, all things are possible.
Amen

One bag contains things grown by farmers here in Britain, the other bag contains things grown by farmers overseas.  What is your favourite item from the bags? The chocolate we eat comes from cocoa beans. Most cocoa beans are grown in Africa, particularly in the Ivory Coast and Ghana. Cocoa pods grow on trees. They start off green and turn yellow when they get ripe, a bit like bananas. When they are ripe, the farmers pick them, open them up and take out the white seeds inside (these are the cocoa beans). They still don't look much like chocolate, and they wouldn't taste very nice either. They need to ferment. So, the farmer wraps them in big plantain leaves for about seven days until they turn brown and start to develop their chocolatey smell. They are then laid out on bamboo mats for another week to dry in the sun. How much money do you spend on chocolate each week? In Britain we spend an average of £57 per person on chocolate every year! So, if we're spending all that money on chocolate, do you think the cocoa farmers are rich or poor? Despite their hard work, most of the farmers are poor because they are not paid a fair price for their cocoa. Most of the money we spend on chocolate doesn't go to the farmer, but to the shop that sells it to us, the factory that makes the bar and the people that buy the cocoa from the farmers.	Praise Through Song – Looking Up  Revolutionary  https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=6glQdaQUZ1U	AG

Some cocoa farmers in Ghana decided to try to do something about this, so they got together and formed a group called a cooperative (which means they work together). They called it Kuapa Kokoo (which means the Good Cocoa Farmers' Group). They work together to grow and sell their cocoa for a fair price. Any extra money they earn goes on projects that help everyone in the community, such as schools or making sure the water supply is safe and clean. Christian Aid is a charity that helped these farmers to set up a company called Divine Chocolate Ltd, which makes Divine and Dubble chocolate bars from fairly traded cocoa beans.

Story Telling

Jennifer is 14 years old and lives in Bayerebon 3 village. Her father is a cocoa farmer and a member of the Kuapa Kokoo farmers' cooperative, and her mother runs a shop selling basic foodstuffs such as rice.

When she was younger Jennifer had to leave her family and go to school in Kumasi, two hours away from her village. Now there is a new school built in Bayerebon 3 funded with Fairtrade premiums and so Jennifer was able to come back home and go to school a short walk away from her house.

Jennifer knows a lot about the role Fairtrade plays in her community – 'Fairtrade supports Kuapa,' she says. 'Fairtrade means my father gets a bonus. And I got to go on one of the kids' camps that Kuapa Kokoo organises for children of cocoa farmers.'

Jennifer plays a very active part in the classes she attends at school – and loves learning English best. 'I want to be a nurse,' she explains, 'Then I can come back here and help my community when they are ill.'

Reflection

Looking In:

You can help too by looking out for the Fairtrade symbol and asking whoever does the shopping to buy things marked with the symbol. You can get fairly-traded bananas, mangoes, coffee, tea, orange juice, pineapples, nuts, raisins, sugar, biscuits, clothes, and, of course, chocolate!

Looking Out:

As we enjoy lovely things, such as chocolate and fruit, we will remember that everything we consume has been made or grown by someone somewhere else. We will try to investigate where that 'somewhere else' might be and give thanks to the 'someone else' who grew it.

Looking Up:

Looking Up – Prayer

Dear God,
Thank you for delicious things to eat.
Help us to remember the farmers who grow our food, especially those who are poor.

				Thank you for Fairtrade and help us to choose wisely so that others may have a better life. Help us to know that with God, all things are possible. Amen.
		Tuesday Hall	Whole School Worship Tackling injustice SPCK Assemblies - Tackling injustice There are times when we may see something happening that we know is wrong. The turning point in Isabel's fortunes comes when she notices an old lady planting flowers in empty paint pots and a homeless man feeding the birds. Isabel joins in, helping with their endeavours and this creates a ripple across the community as more and more people get involved. The ripple becomes a wave, the wave becomes a tsunami of positive community action. And the thing that Isabel has made that is so very special? A difference.	Reflection Looking In: When have I simply passed by when I could have done something? Looking Out: Could I help someone? It seems to imply small acts, not especially significant, possibly even unnoticed. It's unlikely that anyone would win a gold medal or be awarded a royal honour for kindness. Kindness doesn't often make the news headlines or rouse a cheer from the crowds. Yet to Saint Paul kindness is one of the key expressions of community solidarity. It's the way to do good to everyone. Kindness is about being tender-hearted, patient and forgiving. Kindness is a way of acting that can be adopted right now, just like putting on a new item of clothing. Monday February 17th is Random Acts of Kindness Day. This is a day about spontaneity, about halting people in their tracks, making them take notice of things that are unexpected. It also implies kindness not only towards those we know but also to people we don't know well. Looking at it another way, when we receive a random act of kindness it is usually a positive experience. Share the bestselling book of all time...do you know what it is?
 Give clues:
 - This book isn't just one book; it's more like a book of books. In fact, it's a bit like holding an entire library in your hands!
 - This book is made up of 66 smaller books.
 - For many years, the stories in this book were passed on by word of mouth. It took hundreds of years for them all to be written down.
 - This book has adventure, romance, danger, battles, poetry.

Story Telling
 The greatest book of all – The Bible
God's Story: The Bible

Reflection
 World Book Day is a great day to celebrate stories and books. We can all enjoy books because there are so many different kinds; we can all find something that we will love.
 Today, we can be thankful that we get to learn to read so that we can enjoy these books for ourselves. We can also be thankful for all the authors who have given us stories to enjoy.
 Today, the Bible is the bestselling book in the whole world. For Christians, this book is very special and important. It teaches them more about God and what it means to follow him.
Looking In:
Looking Out:
Looking Up:
 Let's look up to God and think about the great book...the Bible and what we can learn from it.
Looking Up – Prayer

	Lent – Preparing our Hearts  Mothering Sunday	9.3.26	Monday Hall	Whole School Worship Lent Primary assemblies: The Festival of Lent - BBC Teach Lent is an important period leading up to Easter, when Christians show their dedication to God. Story Telling While you watch the video, to think about the reasons that people often give something up during Lent. What would you give up? Jesus managed to resist all of the temptations. What do you think this proved to the devil? Why do Christians give up something during Lent? (To remember the 40 days Jesus spent in the desert and copy his sacrifice) Why do we traditionally make pancakes on Shrove Tuesday, the day before Lent? (Eggs, milk and butter were common Lenten sacrifices, and would go off in the 40 days of lent - so people made pancakes with them to use them up)	Praise Through Song – Looking Up My Lighthouse https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=IFBZJGSgyVQ Reflection Looking In: Sit quietly now and in the stillness think about a luxury that you might give up for Lent. Looking Out: Think about the fact that many people around the world might never have an opportunity to enjoy that luxury. Looking Up: Making a Lenten Sacrifice helps Christians show their dedication to God. And the festival of Lent can teach us all to be thankful for the things we enjoy the rest of the year. Looking Up – Prayer Dear Lord, We understand that there are times when we may feel tempted.	AG

			Can you remember what happens in church on Ash Wednesday? (People are marked on the forehead with a cross of ashes). Follow up with: What does the cross of ashes represent? (It reminds Christians of their sins and symbolises dependence on God) What do the chocolate eggs we eat at Easter represent? (The egg represents new life, to celebrate Jesus being resurrected - but the chocolate is also a tasty treat after 40 days of Lent!)	Give us the strength to resist temptation. Help us to be grateful for the luxuries we enjoy and to find ways to help those who are less fortunate. And to know that with God, all things are possible. Amen

				Mary: An Example of Obedience and Sacrifice  Luke 1:26-56; 2:1-52; John 19:25-27 On Mothering Sunday, we remember Mary, the loving mother of Jesus. Mary trusted God and said “yes” to His plan, even when it felt hard, showing great courage and faith. She cared for Jesus with kindness, patience, and love, just like mums and carers do for us every day. Remembering Mary helps us say thank you for our own mothers and for everyone who looks after us with love. Mary endured hardships to keep Jesus safe as a baby.	What can we do to show the mother figure in our lives that we love them? Looking Out:  Let’s take a minute to think about these important people, the things they do for us, and how we can tell them how much we care. Looking Up:  Let us remember Mary, Jesus’ mother for caring for the precious baby Jesus. Looking Up – Prayer  Dear Lord,  Thank you for our mums and all the love they give each day.  Thank you for their hugs, their care, and for guiding us on our way.  Please bless them always and help us show our thanks in every way.  And to know that with God, all things are possible.  Amen.

	Red Nose Day

Can you remember the two big fundraising events that happen in the UK in November and March each year? (Children in Need and Comic Relief / Red Nose Day).
These two charities raise millions of pounds every year. Why do you think they're so successful? (They involve a lot of people - eg whole schools participating, they are fun.)
What did the people taking part in the video say were some of the reasons for helping a charity? (Not just to help others, but because it feels good; you meet new people; you get to do something new; you learn new skills.)

Reflection

Looking In:

What can we do to help others?
Can you think about a time when you needed support? How did it feel when you got help?

Looking Out:

Let's think about others...There are people in this country and all around the world who rely on the support of a charity...perhaps because they don't have enough food to eat...or a home to live in...or access to medical support.

Looking Up:

Looking Up – Prayer

Dear Lord

Thank you for the charities that give support to people.

Thank you for the people who give their time and money to support those charities...and help to make the world a better place.

Help us to remember that we all have the power to make a big difference to those in need of help.

And to know, that with God, all things are possible.

Amen.

	All We Can (Justice & Generosity)  Commitment to helping others and making the world a better place	23.3.26	Monday Hall	Whole School Worship ‘Do all we can’ and ‘The World is my Parish’ – Wesley’s words What did he mean by this?  Today we are going to learn about John Wesley, a man who lived a long time ago and wanted to make the world a kinder place. He believed that everyone could help others, no matter how young or old they were. John Wesley is famous for saying the words “Do all you can.” By this, he meant trying your best to do good things every day. That could be helping a friend, sharing, being kind, or standing up for someone who feels sad or left out. Even small actions can make a big difference.	Praise Through Song – Looking Up	AG
Story Telling Introducing 'John Wesley: The World, My Parish' Graphic Novel				Reflection Looking In: Let’s remember John Wesley’s words and think: What good can I do today? Looking Out: If we all do all we can, our school and our world can be happier places for everyone. Looking Up:

					Looking Up – Prayer          Dear Lord,          We thank you for John Wesley and his call to do all the good we can.          Help us to follow his example by choosing kindness, courage, and care each day.          Guide us to serve others with loving hearts, just as he did.          And to know that with God all things are possible.          Amen.

3. Alan Turing, the brilliant British mathematician who took a leading role in breaking Nazi codes during the Second World War.
4. Billie Eilish, the American singer-songwriter.
5. Ingvar Kamprad, the founder of IKEA.
6. Greta Thunberg, the Swedish environmental activist.

These six people, plus at least one in seven of us, have been identified as neurodivergent. We are all unique, and no one's brain is the same as anyone else's. In this way, we are all neurodiverse.

People who are neurodivergent may be given a medical diagnosis, including ASD (autism spectrum disorder), ADHD (attention deficit hyperactivity disorder) and dyslexia.

Albert Einstein didn't receive a diagnosis of neurodivergence in his lifetime, but many people believe that he showed traits that are associated with autism and dyslexia. Autism can affect social communication and interactions, behaviour and emotions. Autistic people often display traits such as great attention to detail, strong focusing skills and creativity.

Emma Watson was diagnosed with ADHD in childhood. The condition affects people's behaviour, so those who have it can seem restless, may have trouble concentrating and may act on impulse. However, people who have ADHD are often great problem-solvers, and often display energy and enthusiasm.

Turing never received a diagnosis of neurodivergence, but many people have suggested that he might have been dyslexic or autistic. Dyslexia is a common learning difficulty that can cause problems with reading, writing and spelling. People who have dyslexia often have good skills in other areas, though, such as creative thinking, spatial awareness and problem-solving.

Billie Eilish has said that she was diagnosed with Tourette's syndrome as a child. The condition causes people to make involuntary sounds and movements called tics.

Ingvar Kamprad had both ADHD and dyslexia. He chose to give IKEA products their distinctive Swedish names because his diagnosis made it difficult for him to work with typical inventory numbers. This is just one way in which Kamprad used creative thinking to manage how his neurodivergence affected him.

Greta Thunberg was diagnosed with autism as a child. In 2019, she tweeted that her autism had limited her before, but that she now regarded being different as a superpower.

Reflection

It can be too easy to treat people who are different in a less favourable way, or focus on the things that people can't do.

Looking In:

Examine your fingerprint.

Everywhere we go, we carry with us a reminder that we are unique. There is no one quite like us, with our unique blend of gifts, talents and ways of seeing the world. Likewise, everyone we meet today will be unique too! Looking Out: Let's consider how we can be open to difference. How can we be tolerant of it, including supporting those who think or see the world differently. Looking Up: Many of the main religions share the idea that we have been created by God, so all human life is special. Treating people less favourably because of their age, race or gender, or the way in which their brain operates, is a form of discrimination. Many religious teachings promote love and tolerance, and distance themselves from hatred and discrimination. Looking Up – Prayer Dear God, You created us as unique and wonderful individuals. Thank you for our increased understanding of neurodiversity. Please help us to be more tolerant, accepting and aware of difference and diversity. Help us to make a world in which all person's talents and strengths can contribute to the good of all. And to know that with God all things are possible. Amen
